April 27, 1974....Mr. Ed Busch, Radio WFAA, Dallas, Texas

I am still awaiting the signed statement of fact...which I assume, in all fairness, you will supply me.
By that I mean....I "worked" for you...to supply your listeners in Texas with a "miracle" of freak weather, at your own instigation. Therefore a simple admission of you to the quite obvious success of same, would not be unreasonable.

Now...you can add to the "Texas Miracle File", which is what I call it... the above (newsclipping). So far, since your challenge and my acceptance of it...Texas has had (1) an earthquake, (2) a tornado attack, (3) some of the coldest weather in the entire history of Texas, and now, (4) "weeks of hot, blustery winds" (to quote above newsclip)...which, incidentally, seem to have knocked out the wheat crop in Texas. Sorry about that...but the SI's preaised amplified heat, you know (see the original letter); and they promised a "major demonstration."

Texas, it seems...is certainly getting one! And, in variety.

Note: The giant UFO is still up there, hanging over Texas, invisible... causing effect...and will not move away until I signal it to do so.

Mr. Randolph Hearst, Hillsborough, California

Have written you before, but you have not even acknowledged. Am one of the world's greatest psychics...also a member of Mensa...so am qualified to give you some functional ideas that could work to bring your daughter home safely. Have the following message placed all over San Francisco just as the circus puts up posters...also feed it to all of the newspapers:
"A LIFE FOR A LIFE"...I, Randolph Hearst, father of Patricia Hearst...will do the following for anyone...who will bring my daughter Patricia back safely to me. I will set you up for life...you will need for nothing. All living expenses will be paid, and a home (house) purchased for you. It need not be in the United States; it can be anywhere in the world...and I will personally pay for your living expenses, necessities, for the rest of your life. This, in return for my daughter's life. A fair trade. But more: anyone "turning in" a member of the SLA so that the member is captured by the authorities...will be paid $10,000.00 (or 25,000) in immediate cash! Simply call the FBI, say you are "The Owl" and give details on how the member, or members, can be found...and as soon as they are captured call the FBI again and tell them where you want the money delivered; the reward. And you will have it within 24 hours. And no one will have your identity. You will not be touched by the FBI or any of the authorities. You will be free to be happy with all the money. Signed, William Randolph Hearst."

Try it, Mr. Hearst...this worked in a grand manner back in the Wild West days with reward posters. It still will today. There are some weak members of the SLA who will "bite". I feel it in my bones.

5/13/74 my letter to
Hearst Reward
(NY Times)

After three months of fruitless negotiation with the kidnappers, Randolph Hearst has now offered a $50,000 reward for the safe return of his daughter Patricia. "We've tried everything," Mr. Hearst said, referring to a million-dollar food giveaway demanded by the kidnappers, the self-styled Symbionese Liberation Army, "and our daughter still isn't back. Hopefully this will bring out some concerned citizen."

The investigation into the kidnapping appeared to be making no headway. "We are stumped," said F.B.I. Director Clarence M. Kelley last week.

TO MY SCIENTISTS

The SI's...UFO entities...gave me information yesterday, that had puzzled me for long years. First, a bit of background is necessary. In 1956 a UFO came down near our car, and my daughter and I lost an hour of time (near Dallas, Texas)...following which I began to get tremendous ideas with regard to helping and healing people...which I put down into a book, which grew into quite a large book. Techniques to use most certainly not available anywhere else on earth. (Dr. Zakow, astrophysicist, told me that this book was much more impressive to him even than my miracles, some years later.) At any rate, it became quite evident, as time passed, that the ideas were given me by the SI's. Using the techniques, I saved lives for people who were otherwise given up for dead by the medical profession; also did many other astounding things with the ideas. In Fort Worth, Texas, for years...I trained pupils with the Idea Book...first teaching them auto-hypnosis, then combining hetero-hyp with the auto-hyp to build in the techniques given to me by the UFO entities.

Here in Cape Charles I have trained some pupils...one man flew from Holland. Another from Italy. Another from Canada. Another flew here from Thailand. A husband and wife flew here from California. And so on. All to be trained by my special, UFO, methods.

Only yesterday, however, did the UFO's communicate with me...and explain what it was all about (before, all that I knew was that it gave my pupil a "superbrain"...)

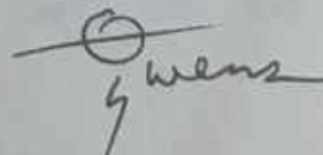

They told me...that this system I teach...utilizing methods taught to me by them, the UFO's...would raise the frequency of my pupil (besides giving them a Superbain). They explained to me...that as I had moved up the Psychic Spectrum (which I explained to you not long ago) that my frequency had also raised, correspondingly. And that as my brain had been, and is, increasing its power, exponentially...that my frequency also was changing. Now...when the UFO's find a promising person somewhere out there in the United States (or out in Europe, or wherever)...they guide that person to me, so that by using the system the UFO's had taught me...I can change that person's frequency. The purpose is...so that if mankind has a nuclear war, the SI's can somehow (I do not know how) preserve these high-frequencied persons to restock the Earth.

The UFO's explained to me...that they are at present busy changing the Earth's frequency to a higher level...so that they can sort out those humans they wish to survive, and use to restock the Earth. Also, those humans who have the potential which the SI's value...but not the high frequency...they are trying to get to me...so that I can raise the frequency of that person to a satisfactory level. (These, of course, are superior, key, people to the SI's.)

My UFO system...consists of teaching my Pupil autohypnosis first...then to go into the UFO methods of training...which, as I have said, are unique. And since some of the techniques are silent and invisible that I use, to my Pupil...my system cannot be duplicated by other humans (due to my half-SI brain.)

TO THE SCIENTISTS.....

Again, this is not a letter based on fact or documentation. Rather, it is intelligence based upon my own experience and knowledge.

At this late date...I saw some pictures of humanoids (as described by witnesses who had seen them emerging from "flying saucers"). They had wide cheekbones, large eyes, sharply pointed faces, with pointed chins.

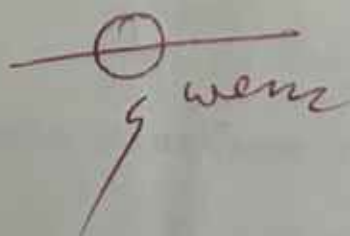

Now, while in Las Vegas, and winning heavily at roulette for a client...I noticed a tiny man seated at an empty table about 20 feet away. His eyes were glued on me, and what I was doing. And he had precisely, absolutely the same face as the pictures in the magazine of the "UFO occupants." He had gray hair; was neatly dressed in a suit, but with shirt collar open; his head was smaller proportionately than it should have been, seemed to me, compared with his body; he had wide cheek bones, large eyes, and his face came to a peculiar point, and he had a sharply pointed chin. He held a notepad and, as he watched me intently, he made notes on the notepad.

Several hours later I was at the Greyhound Bus station, waiting an hour for my bus. I noticed that the little man with the pointed face, the same man, was standing beside the door leading outside to the buses, and was watching every move that I made.

Bear in mind...the night before, Las Vegas thugs had tried to get me... had doped my drink...then had tried to fast-talk me into taking their taxi. Now, another man was also watching me, but close-by...he would keep running over to a nearby public phone and make calls, then return to his position. I assumed that the two were working together, as Vegas hoods, making sure that I was leaving town. (Remember that the one big fear Vegas hoods who own casinos have...is a major psychic coming to town and cleaning up.) When my bus was ready to go, I picked up my bag and walked through the door out to my bus. The little man with the pointed chin had moved out ahead of me, and stood alone near the bus...eyes still glued on me. He watched me get onto the bus, I took a seat and looked out, and he still stood there beside the bus, looking toward me in my seat. Now, I am convinced that the little man with the pointed face and chin...was not a Las Vegas hood at all, since he was a twin for these UFO occupant pictures...but a SI, possibly there to protect me from the Vegas hoods.

Years ago in Philadelphia, a strange lady called Zelda asked me to meet her after office hours at a certain bar. I went there and we sat and chatted. She was a member of an organization studying psychic phenomena, so this was not an unusual thing. Suddenly the waiter brought half a dozen drinks to our table...said a dark-skinned man at the bar had bought them for us. Then he walked over to our table and sat down. I was stunned. He wasn't negro, yet he was dusky skinned. Zelda seemed to know him...and they talked with great rapidity...so fast I couldn't even follow what they were saying... and although the conversation I could make out seemed a normal pattern, albeit at high speed, I thought it must have been a code of some sort at the time. Then I got my big shock...the man had six fingers on each hand! His voice was musical...like a person from Jamaica...and he wanted to take me to a nearby "gymnasium". I politely declined, left and went home.

Dear Dr. Targ:

with my mind.

You have received my file...showing an affidavit from Dr. Max Fogel...re an experiment utilizing other-dimensional (PK) powers to control pro football teams last season. I did fairly well...although not as good a performance as I usually give.

The reason for this letter...if you can find a financial backer...to subsidize me this coming pro football season...I will spend the entire winter repeating the experiment for you and the backer. As far as I know no other psychic has ever attempted such an experiment...let alone produced what I consider significant results with such an experiment.

It drains me of energy all week long...after a Sunday and Monday of expending psychic energy minute by minute, play by play, for some nine hours of solid OD (other-dimensional...various mechanisms, of which psychokinesis is one) work. This nine hours encompasses two games on Sunday afternoon, and one the following Monday night, NFL. Games taken from my local TV Guide.

Complete documentation on it, including notifying you in advance in writing the teams I am going to control with my mind. It is my belief that this season I could attain 80% to 90% accuracy. I would devote my full time and energy this coming season on this experiment...thus it would be necessary to have financial backing so that I would not have to dilute my mental power by trying to eke out a living whilst doing the experiment, which was the case last season...and which hurt my accuracy last season...because winter here is the most expensive time of the year (oil, an added $100 a month) and it was necessary for me to devote most of my time and energy last season to scramble to hold up my family financially...whilst doing the experiment for Dr. Fogel.

Dear Ted,

Just a note to thank you for your correspondence and disc, which was very thoughtful of you. I continue to be amazed by your accomplishments and documentations. Incidentally, has the movie materialized yet?

I have really had no association yet with anyone from the Ambassadors since that is someone else's beat but I still would love for some team to accept your offer. Yet, I also wonder what would happen to sports as it is now if they became a battle of minds instead of bodies.

Have you ever thought of syndicating a world-wide column, which could contain both predictions and personal messages to readers? I think it would be very beneficial to you and also would help establish your accomplishments and powers.

Best regards and tell your son I said hello.

Dear Frank:

Have missed your sports columns recently. There is no substitute for a Frank Vehorn column.

The movie...they (the studio) keeps calling me every so often from Los Angeles and I talk to the producer for almost an hour each time. But it is moving like a turtle.

What would happen to sports...if ESP Masters entered into the fray? Color, that is what would happen. If you think that the public is titillated now...over pro football...I would unhesitatingly predict that the titillation would become doubled...with ESP Masters fronting each team, each game...covering each play. And the TV and press media would have a field day! Can you imagine the interest...of PK Man fronting "The Flying Saucers" team...going head-to-head against Peter Hurkos or Jean Dixon...fronting the Miami Dolphins? We would, of course, wear the colors and insignia of our team...be dressed in some special jumpsuit or outfit...and probably be on the bench with the players...or perhaps centered among the fans just behind the bench. And why should it not be a battle of minds as well as bodies? Would be the A-1 sauce on the steak, Frank. Why do you suppose teams playing at home...are automatically, as a rule, made 5-10 points before the game starts? Sure, there is a psychological lift...but all the home fans, wishing en masse for their team to win, are actually projecting a psychokinetic effect! Upon the game. I tell you Frank, when ESP Masters join the pro teams...it will add a load of color and excitement into the games that has never been there!

I have recently written to Dr. Russell Targ, the noted physicist who wrote me and asked to be able to follow my work with my collaboration... and made him a proposition...to do over the same experiment that I did for Dr. Max Fogel last pro football season...with this difference:

last season I had to scramble the entire season to make a buck to put food on the table and pay the rent, etc. This used up a whole lot of energy...so that by the weekend, when it came time to PK a bunch of pro games, and control them with my mind...my energies were low. AND ENERGY IS THE KEY TO MY ESP WORK. Like a flashlight with weak batteries...will throw off a dim light...so will an ESP person, whose energy is low, be able to work in a weak manner.

I asked him to find a financial backer...to cover the pro season by sending me $600 a month to live on...leaving my energies free and frisky to control pro games.

Last season I was successful 73%-74%, working "tired".

This season, if I do not have to "work tired"...I should be able to get a 85%-90% average.

It makes...one heck of a difference.

Now, re your really brilliant idea...of my syndicating a world-wide column...you are RIGHT ON!

I could, very easily, take current events as fast as they are happening... and project what lies just ahead...re them all! And I am frighteningly accurate!

Take now, for instance...I can tell you that Nixon will collapse soon and go into hospital for surgery. Stomach area.

Things like that. What will happen re Israel and the Middle East situation...what will happen in elections coming up...where assassination attempts on noted persons will be made next...what prominent entertainers are going to do next...and so on.

This just couldn't be beaten...on a rapidly-moving, daily basis!

THEN...to add icing to the cake...people could send me their photographs... and I could tell them things about their life nobody knows; their character, personality and disposition; AND WHAT LIES AHEAD OF THEM IN THEIR LIFE! Each day...one of these could be done...printed in the column. And it can be requested in the column for them to verify accuracy or inaccuracy...and print those, too, when they come in!

I tell you, Frank, that column would JUMP!

However...I do not know how to get that syndication. So will make you another proposition (but keep in mind my other, pro team proposition anyway)...if you can act as my agent and be instrumental in my getting syndication...I will send you a xerox of the contract...then each week, or month, when the pay comes in...will send you your check for 10%, for the entire first year. Fair enough? Then each year thereafter while am syndicating...will send you a fat bonus just for the heck of it. See what you can do, Frank?

Best....

Thank you for the help you sent today, in my work and research. It is most appreciated.

And just as appreciated...are your inspirational thoughts and messages.. I have put your poem up on the wall in my office...

Yes, Billy...the SI's (angels) and I are the only hope left to the human race. But, like Edgar Cayce (read about his life sometime...) I cannot do what I have to do...and just barely squeak by each day, with creditors one jump behind me. It cannot keep going on. Yet the stupid government will not help, although it will hand away hundreds of millions to foreign countries that hate America. So....that's the way it is.

The SI's...must be utterly disgusted about the situation. They supply the human race with a one-of-a-kind prophet, with a "future brain"...and the human race simply ignores the prophet.

It is...and old, old story, my friend.

Cordially,

The chapter on "Ted Owens, Predictions From Space Intelligences", begins on page 134...but turn to page 141. I quote from the book:

"Trouble In Nevada"

It would be wise to stay away from the state of Nevada. The SI's have begun demonstration against the modern Sodom and Gomorrah of Reno and Las Vegas, and all sorts of things have begun to happen -- earthquakes, riots, sinking earth. I have just received a report from a reliable source that says the ground level of Nevada has begun to sink. So stay away from Nevada -- or the PK may get you there if you don't watch out!"

Please keep the above in mind, as you follow further.

Now, as you read about the freak things that occurred...AND ALL REPORTED IN ONE DAY'S NEWSPAPER...keep in mind also that I WAS IN RENO, USING OTHER-DIMENSIONAL POWER AND COMMUNICATING WITH THE SI'S FOR HOURS EACH DAY, while these things took place!

See (1)...man sucked out of a plane window...on a plane HEADED FOR LAS VEGAS. "Guy Moshier of Los Angeles, head of the National Transportation Safety Board team investigating the accident, said it was the first such death he had ever heard of on a commercial airplane." And the body "vanished".

(2) A "gambler's special" bus, HEADED FOR RENO, was "sliced up the middle" in a freakish accident. "...federal probers said they had recovered the bus' governor and that it was in working order. "It's still a mystery," said Henry H. Wakeland, director of the federal Bureau of Surface Transportation Safety.

There you have not one, but two...freakish accidents...reported in the papers on the very same day...bearing out my warning in Seers Predict For 1972. In the first...nobody had ever seen such an accident occur before on a commercial airliner. In the second, it was a "mystery". But wait. There is more to come.

ADSO reported in that same newspaper...was a tornado attack ALL AROUND ME. Matter of fact, I'd just driven out of Sparks...when it was knocked silly by a tornado.

Now...recall the recent file I sent you...where the UFO landed in the "target area" in Virginia...which involves "Project Alien" between myself and Dr. Max Fogel...and remained over the head of a policeman for 15 minutes. That UFO was spotted by Officer OWEN. Then another UFO event I am connected with through documentation was several years ago when Big Foot held out a "hand" and stopped a car going 50 miles per hour...then reached in and held the hair of a woman in the car...whose maiden name was OWENS.

All right. See (3) now. There, in the midst of the tornado attack... just north of me...is a woman's photo...named OWENS.

Somehow, I do not know how, the SI's use this ploy...as an "arrow" pointing to me and my work with them.

But let's even take this a bit further.

The small article, "Scriptural Wind", was on the same page with the photo of Mrs. Owens. (Remember, the SI's have told me, and I have put it in print...that they say they are the 'angels' of the Bible we humans refer to.) Now...read that small blurb. "...no man knoweth whence it cometh..." -- just like UFO's, right? Then read further: "...It probably is manufactured on the mountaintop for the occasion, and starts from there."

How...did the newspaper writer come to dig up this old quote from Mark Twain...that so fits? Did the SI's compel him? (Remember that in the past I have proved that they can compel people to think of certain things!)

And...one further point. Go to the next page, "Strong Winds Change Some Lives At Stead"...and look at the bottom of the newsclip.

"Her husband walked in. "I just got the bad news on my car from the insurance adjuster. AN ACT OF GOD?"

"Was the trailer an act of God, too?" Mrs. Owens asked."

This ties in with the "Scriptural Wind", with the SI's as angels, and with my "Sodom and Gomorrah" statement...and with something else. Do you recall the affidavit I sent you last year...where I controlled a football game, in collaboration with Dr. Max Fogel, and after the game one of the pro players stated that "someone UP THERE must like us!" (I was working with the UFO's on that game.)

Also remember the recent massive tornado attack file I sent you...and in one of the newsclips, where a family had survived, a man said the very same thing, "Someone up there must like us" or words to that effect. And that tornado attack was connected with me (although I had nothing to do with it...to cause it myself...was due to SI anger).

And this all went on...while I was there. Makes you wonder...how much else...freakish in nature...is occurring there...but I am not there to document it? You realize that Nevada does not want much of this sort of thing to get into out-of-state newspapers...hurts the tourist trade, which is their main source of income.

But only PK Man...can tie all of this together intelligently...and point it out to you...tying all of the documentation together.

And one further thought: was the horrendous force that I was using, for hours on end, in Reno...other-dimensional force...responsible for this freakish tornado attack?!! Was my daily communication with the UFO's UP ABOVE...responsible for the EFFECT "manufactured on the mountaintop (i.e., UP ABOVE) and starting from there"...???

Searchers Look for Body of Man Sucked out of Plane

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (UPI) — Searchers on foot, in four-wheel drive vehicles and airplanes looked vainly Tuesday for the body of a man who was sucked out of a plane window by depressurization Saturday.

Officials said they doubted the body of G. F. Gardner, Beaumont, Tex., 45, would ever be found.

Gardner was sitting next to a window when a jet engine came apart on a National Airlines DC10, hurled debris into the side of the aircraft and smashed the window. The plane's cabin depressurized and Gardner was sucked through the window at 39,000 feet.

Guy Moshier of Los Angeles, head of the National Transportation Safety Board team investigating the accident, said it was the first such death he had ever heard of on a commercial airplane.

State Police Chief Martin Vigil said searchers on foot and in jeeps combed rugged terrain about 35 miles west of Socorro for the body. Two National Guard helicopters and a state police airplane were involved in the search.

Vigil said searchers "have very little hope of ever finding his body."

The explosion occurred when the jet was about 50 miles southwest of Albuquerque on a flight from Houston to Las Vegas. The pilot made a successful emergency landing at Albuquerque 15 minutes after the incident.

'Gamblers' Special' Bus Speed in Doubt

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The speed a "gamblers' special" bus was traveling when it slammed into a freeway pillar killing 13 persons emerged as the focal point Tuesday of state and federal investigations into the weekend crash.

The California Highway Patrol tentatively blamed the Saturday night accident on "excessive speed," but federal probers said they had recovered the bus' governor and that it was in working order.

"It's still a mystery," said Henry H. Wakeland, director of the federal Bureau of Surface Transportation Safety.

He said his investigative team found the governor as properly set to limit the bus' speed to about 67 miles per hour.

However, some witnesses told patrolmen the double decker bus enroute from Richmond, Calif. to Reno for a weekend of gambling for its 43 passengers passed their vehicles at more than 80 miles an hour.

The patrol also said there were no skidmarks on the Interstate 80 freeway where the bus hit the five-foot diameter overpass pillar.

The pillar sliced the bus up the middle for more than a third of its length, scattering victims, luggage and debris for hundreds of feet. The impact indicated the bus "was moving right along to do that kind of damage," said one patrol investigator.

Wakeland said that because of the conflicting reports it would be months before his final report is concluded.

He said his men had finished inspecting the bus wreckage and would now concentrate on interviewing witnesses.

Another conflict in the investigation has been the condition of the driver, Douglas Moore, 26, who was killed in the crash.

Arthur Davis, 45, Richmond, who was seated directly behind the driver, told authorities Moore clutched his chest and tried to stand up an instant before the bus hurled into the pillar.

However, county Coroner George Nielsen said an autopsy on Moore's body showed "there was absolutely nothing wrong with his heart. He was in perfect health."

It also found no trace of alcohol or drugs in his blood.

Winds Wrack Stead; 7 Hurt

JAN and GARRETH OWENS
... I'm leaving here

By JACK STEVENSON
Staff Writer

A "Washoe Zephyr" tumbled down off nearby mountains Tuesday morning, demolishing mobile homes north of Reno and lifting roofs off a Carson City auto agency building and a new stable.

Joe Ganser, chief meteorologist for the National Weather Service, Reno office, said "there was nothing unusual about the Tuesday winds, and more can be expected this week.

(Related stories, photos, pages 2, 16)

"It's just the first good winter storm we've had, and it's accompanied by a strong southwesterly flow of air across the Sierra—which we know better locally as a Washoe Zephyr."

Seven persons were injured in havoc of overturning trailers and wind-whipped debris which struck its heaviest blow in the Sierra Shadows mobile home park at Stead.

Helen Fowler, 37, was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday night at St. Mary's Hospital, where she was being treated for facial lacerations. Six other persons, less seriously hurt, were treated at local hospitals and released.

Of 33 trailers in the park, 10 were destroyed, another five badly damaged.

In Carson City, at about 9 a.m. Tuesday, the roof of Don Weir's Carson City Dodge agency was lifted off and dropped into the service department of the auto center.

"It was horrible," a witness said. "The roof went straight up in the air in slow motion and landed partially in back on new cars and customers' cars."

Strong Winds Change Some Lives at Stead

'... I Don't Think I Ever
Want to Get Back in a Trailer'

By BOB FELTEN
Staff Writer

"All my money is in there."

Richard McKenzie stood looking at a pile of rubble which Monday had been his mobile home.

"I don't know what I'm going to do. I just don't know. I don't think I ever want to get back in a trailer."

His home had been destroyed by strong winds. His neighbor said it happened about 1 a.m. Tuesday. McKenzie works until 2 a.m. "It was a miracle nobody was in there. If I would have been there, I wouldn't be here right now. Look at it. There's not much to salvage."

Ten mobile homes were destroyed and seven persons hospitalized when winds struck the Sierra Shadows Mobile Home Park at Stead early Tuesday morning.

The recreation building was a center for relief efforts in the middle of a park which resembled pictures of a war zone.

Residents of the park milled around and ate food served by the Salvation Army and donated by local clubs.

Mike Kay leaned against the wall, his unshaven face almost expressionless. "We've been so busy, this is the first bite I've had today."

"Our trailer was completely demolished. We salvaged some things, but not much could be salvaged. We got some clothes. When we left, we didn't have anything but what we were wearing. My wife had to get some pictures, especially the wedding pictures."

His two-year-old son, Steve, has been taken by his grandmother to California, "until we get situated," Kay said.

"I'm not exasperated or frustrated by this. We didn't have anything when we got married. We built it up until we had a lot. We figure we will just get started all over again, only this time it won't be quite as hard."

The trailer was blown over their car. "It seems like we've about lost everything, but none of us got a scratch."

The Kay's were warned by a fireman to leave their mobile home.

"I wasn't scared. I was sure that something like this couldn't happen. We were sitting in the recreation room and someone came in and said my trailer had blown over. My first reaction was it was a bad joke, I know now it was a lot worse than that."

In the corner of the recreation building beds had been laid out. Puppies wandered everywhere. Women held small children on their laps.

"The trailer next door blowing over on top of us woke us up," Jan Owens said. She put her 15-month-old son Garreth on the floor. A dachshund puppy licked his face. "As soon as I can get a suitcase together I'm leaving here. I'm not too interested in coming back to live in a trailer."

Her family's trailer had been moved about 10 feet off its blocks. The trailer which had awakened her had also damaged the Owens' car.

Her husband walked in. "I just got the bad news on my car from the insurance adjuster. An act of God."

"Was the trailer an act of God, too?" Mrs. Owens asked.

When the wind started blowing Monday, Victor and Dornica Calloun decided to spend the night in a Reno hotel.

"We've lived in trailers for three years. We never stay in the trailer when it starts blowing like that." Their trailer was one of the few not damaged. "We were lucky and a lot has to do with we have hurricane straps on the trailer," she said.

Delonas Boothe's home was also blown off the blocks.

"I wouldn't want to live in it again. We've got a house over in Oroville, (Calif.) We'll have to see where we stand, but I've got a hunch we'll go back there."

A happy sidelight of the windstorm, at least for Rene Sharon, 13, was that the children from the park won't be required to go to school for three days.

Was Rene scared?

"When you see a mobile home coming toward your window, and pieces of board come through the wall, that scares you," she said.

"It (the board) cut a gash in the wall of the bedroom and went through to the kitchen, by the time it got there it was in splinters" her mother Mrs. Mable Sharon said.

"Our trailer was damaged, but I guess we'll just fix it up and get right back in it. We'll be teased terribly by our relatives. We moved out here from Oklahoma because of the tornadoes," Mrs. Sharon said.

"I guess I'm a fatalistic person, but it's silly to worry. This bothered my husband and daughter more than me. When life is fully filled up, then it expires, that's just the way things are."

Carson Auto Agency Smacked by Twister

By MARILYN NEWTON
Staff Writer

Two of nine persons inside the Don Weir Dodge Agency in Carson City were injured Tuesday morning when a tornado-like wind slammed into the building, lifted the roof then dropped it.

Butch Suter, parts manager, and Ron Brown, service manager, were both struck by flying glass. Brown also received an electrical shock while trying to shut off the building's power.

Carson City Sheriff Robert Humphrey said witness reports and the type of damage indicated the building was struck by "a twister or small cyclone," noting the roof was "picked up and turned partially around." Trailers next to the building were untouched.

It was about 9:15 a.m. when the twister was first seen coming down a hill from the west.

"It was a cloud of twisting dust and it came so quickly that when it hit it was like a train hitting the building," Brown said.

Suter described it as an "explosion."

"I went into a back room and lay down in a corner. I could hear things coming down around me. I looked up and saw the roof start rolling back. I ran from the building and was ready to climb a fence when everything subsided. It only lasted about 10 seconds, but it seemed more like two hours. I hope it never happens again."

Another employee dived over a dutch door to get out of the twister's way. Another, a mechanic, had no place to go so he crouched next to one of the cars, which later was struck by a large door. The mechanic was not hurt.

Two customers were sitting in their truck. As the roof was lifted off, live electrical wires fell on the vehicle. Brown grabbed the power switch.

"A shock slammed me against the wall and I fell down," he said. "I got up and grabbed it again. I had to shut off the power. I didn't know but those people might have been killed if they touched the metal of the truck."

ATTENTION: ALL CONTACTS

The U.S. Government is selling a huge missile silo...by bid...and I have sent for papers to try to buy it.
It is located in Montana....near Malstrom, Montana.
Nothing could be more perfect...for what the SI's and I have been wanting and needing...to get together. For long years they have been wanting me to travel to Europe, to an isolated castle...for that purpose. But when I read of this missile silo for sale...the SI's communicated and told me to do my best to get it, and to move there...and stand by for meetings with them .

What I have to do...is get as much money as I can together...for a 10% down-payment...and send my bid in to the GSA in Washington, D.C., on the missile site.

I do not know how we'd get out to Montana, even if I got the site. Once there, I do not know how we'd live at the site.
But I recall Edgar Cayce once had the same problem...when he wanted a huge place to start his work in earnest...yet he was stony-broke. Well, by a miracle, he got it.

That's what I am depending on...for this new location...this missile site with a huge underground...and in an isolated spot.

If you can, send any money you can as quickly as possible...to help me out with this...
and if my bid is not accepted, your money will be returned.

If you cannot send any money, I will understand...you know that.

ing PK to keep winter on E Coast warm!!

March 28,
1974.

The Winter That Wasn't

Va. Pilot

WASHINGTON (AP)—On Thursday, the first full day of spring, the National Weather Service looked back over the winter and said that, averaged for the nation as a whole, it was "considerably milder than normal."

"And that was very fortunate in terms of the heating oil situation," it said.

The Federal Energy Office concurs. FEO says in its latest report, for the week ended March 8, that the winter has been about 10 per cent warmer than normal and that heating oil inventories are 32-million barrels higher than a year ago.

But, don't breathe a word of this weather summary to folks in places like Grand Junction, Colo.; Lincoln and Grand Island, Neb.; Topeka, Kan.; Peoria, Ill.; and parts of northern California and southwestern Oregon.

The weatherman concedes that folks in some areas had it rough at times last winter from either record cold-spells, snowfalls, or severe floods.

Government meteorologists say that the generally mild winter featured sometimes spectacular extremes in widely separated areas of the nation.

On the mild side, they say, the southeastern states never had it so good.

The weather systems held responsible include the jet stream, a huge high speed river of air that courses above the globe; a ridge of high pressure over the eastern Pacific Ocean; the so-called Bermuda high, another high-pressure area located in the south-tropical Atlantic; and a Chinook wind.

The latter originates as a warm, moist wind off the Pacific coastal regions but, as it blows over the Rocky Mountains, it descends as a dry wind—warm in winter and cool in summer—that causes snow to melt quickly and even evaporate.

The jet stream strayed much farther north than usual, helping slow down great quantities of especially cold air from Arctic regions and triggering the lengthy cold spell in mid-America. But, as it sped east across the nation, it influenced the Bermuda high to help spread mildness in the eastern sector.

Meteorologist James Wagner

of the Weather Service summed up the winter weather thus: "On the whole, and very fortunately, it was a milder than normal winter on the average for the country, with areas of most prominent mildness being in the Northwestern and Southeastern states, although most of the West and East were also warmer than normal."

Spring Mockery 3/25/74

It didn't compare to the Ash Wednesday Storm of 1962, which wrecked Virginia Beach and much else of this coast, or the Summer's End Storm of 10 years later, which was notable for slamming a barge against the Chesapeake Bay Bridge-Tunnel. Even so, the Spring's Start Storm of yesterday intruded as rudely as its freakish predecessors.

It was Christmas weather exactly three months late. While a March 25 snow is not unheard-of, yesterday's had the qualities of a blizzard. At midday the temperature was below freezing and a nor'easter was gusting at better than 20 knots. Visibility was zilch. Conditions probably were better in Siberia.

But then, as we were remarking on Wednesday, "a dismal opening of spring is a small price to pay for a winter that never was." We weren't expecting inflation to reach over our shoetops and numb our ears, though.

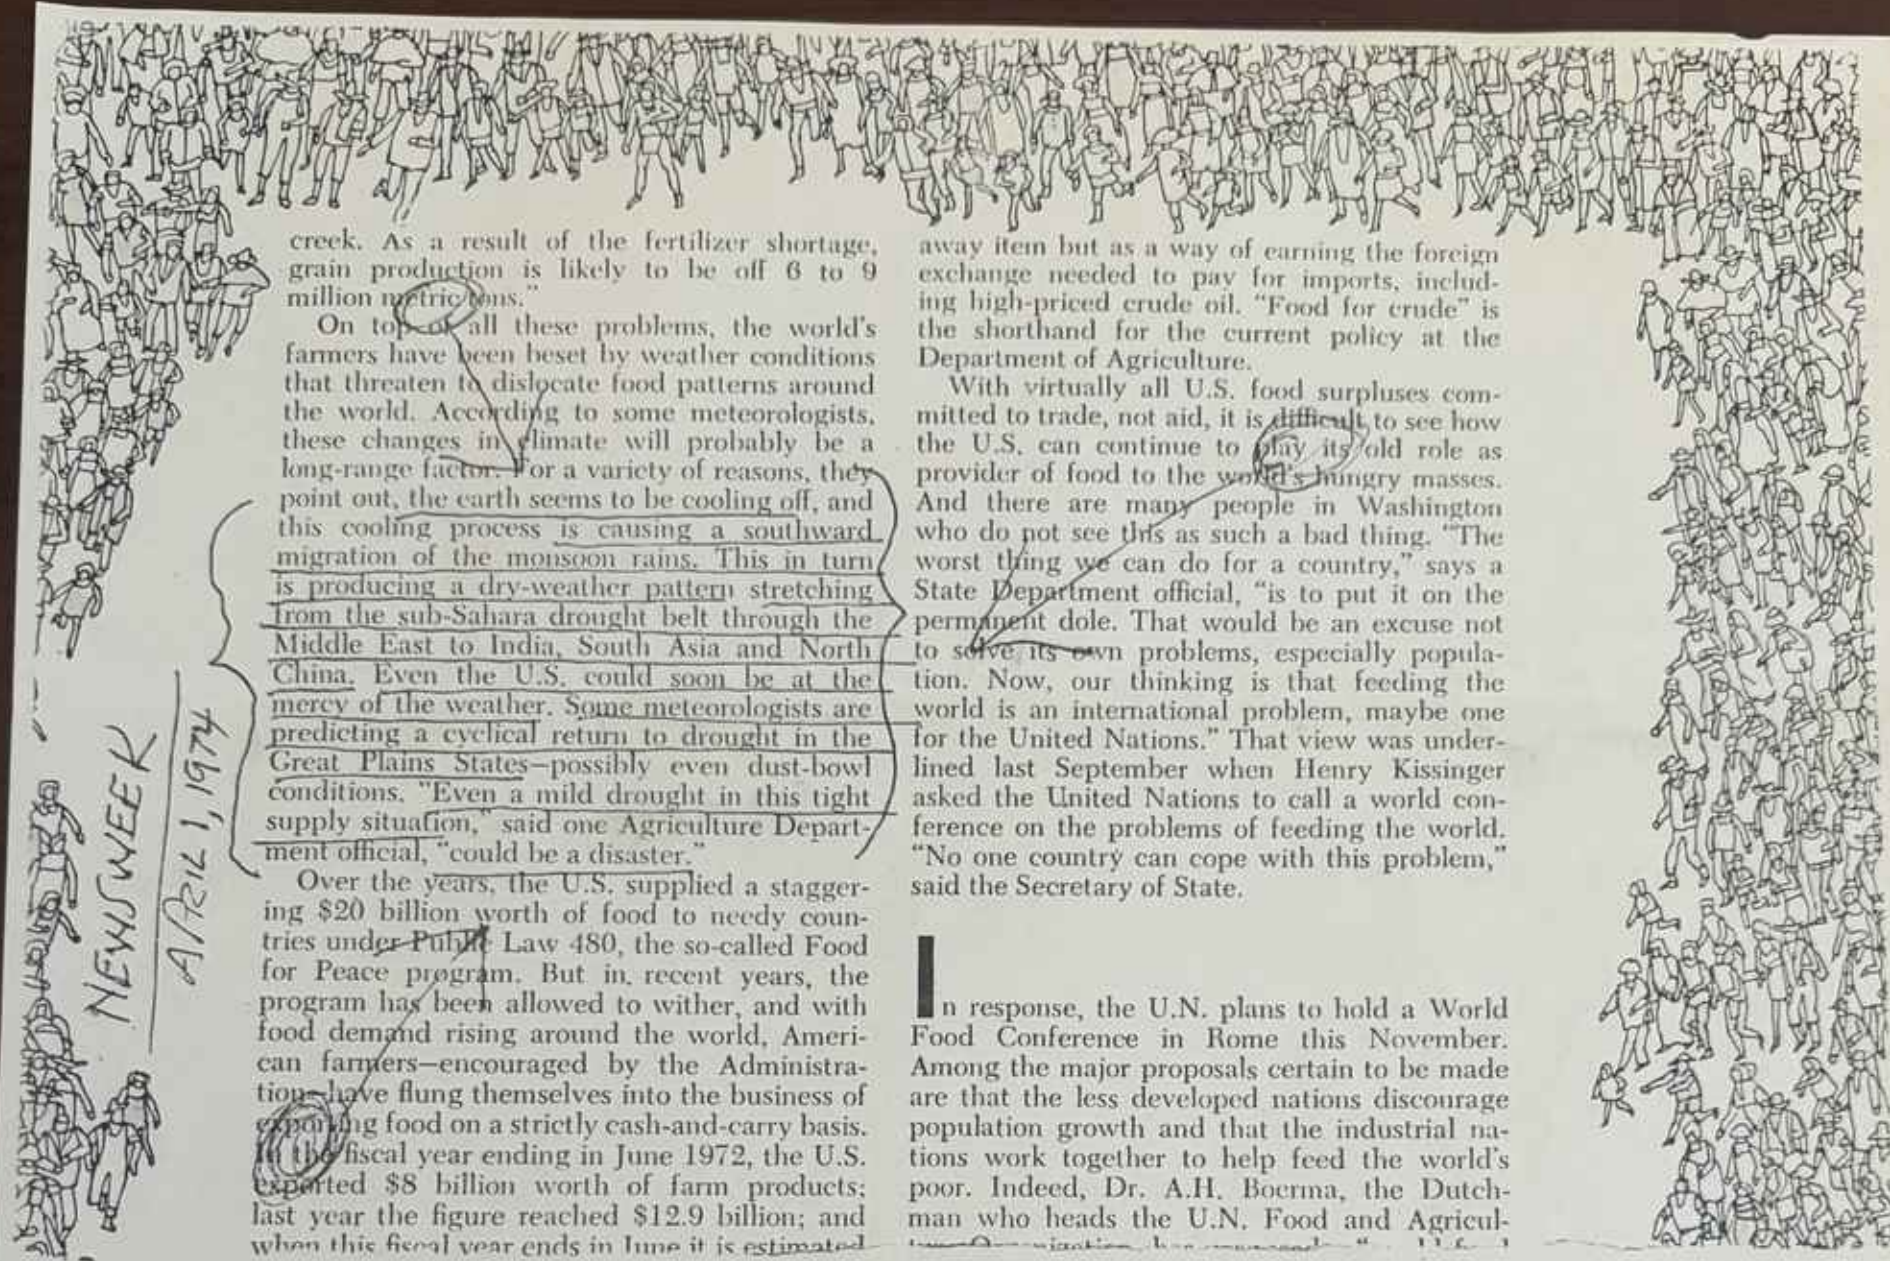

April 2, 1974...TO THE SCIENTISTS.....this follows my file of last year, where I announced that I would keep the weather mild through the winter on the southeastern coast...and repeated again this year when I appeared on Larry Angel Show, TV, in Baltimore, and announced I would do my best to keep it mild this winter too. Seeing this newsclip...and reading my file, enclosed, on Texas weather control (and remember from last year when I pointed out I was controlling the jet stream)...it should be rock-obvious to you now...that I can indeed control the weather over vast areas when I wish to do so.

creek. As a result of the fertilizer shortage, grain production is likely to be off 6 to 9 million metric tons."

On top of all these problems, the world's farmers have been beset by weather conditions that threaten to dislocate food patterns around the world. According to some meteorologists, these changes in climate will probably be a long-range factor. For a variety of reasons, they point out, the earth seems to be cooling off, and this cooling process is causing a southward migration of the monsoon rains. This in turn is producing a dry-weather pattern stretching from the sub-Sahara drought belt through the Middle East to India, South Asia and North China. Even the U.S. could soon be at the mercy of the weather. Some meteorologists are predicting a cyclical return to drought in the Great Plains States—possibly even dust-bowl conditions. "Even a mild drought in this tight supply situation," said one Agriculture Department official, "could be a disaster."

Over the years, the U.S. supplied a staggering $20 billion worth of food to needy countries under Public Law 480, the so-called Food for Peace program. But in recent years, the program has been allowed to wither, and with food demand rising around the world, American farmers—encouraged by the Administration—have flung themselves into the business of exporting food on a strictly cash-and-carry basis. In the fiscal year ending in June 1972, the U.S. exported $8 billion worth of farm products; last year the figure reached $12.9 billion; and when this fiscal year ends in June it is estimated away item but as a way of earning the foreign exchange needed to pay for imports, including high-priced crude oil. "Food for crude" is the shorthand for the current policy at the Department of Agriculture.

With virtually all U.S. food surpluses committed to trade, not aid, it is difficult to see how the U.S. can continue to play its old role as provider of food to the world's hungry masses. And there are many people in Washington who do not see this as such a bad thing. "The worst thing we can do for a country," says a State Department official, "is to put it on the permanent dole. That would be an excuse not to solve its own problems, especially population. Now, our thinking is that feeding the world is an international problem, maybe one for the United Nations." That view was underlined last September when Henry Kissinger asked the United Nations to call a world conference on the problems of feeding the world. "No one country can cope with this problem," said the Secretary of State.

In response, the U.N. plans to hold a World Food Conference in Rome this November. Among the major proposals certain to be made are that the less developed nations discourage population growth and that the industrial nations work together to help feed the world's poor. Indeed, Dr. A.H. Boerma, the Dutchman who heads the U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization, has announced

Well, the Si's set it up...and told me how to undo the World Drought later on. I am the only human who can undo it...so you, and all the other people in this world, had better just pray that nothing happens to me before the right time comes to undo the drought. Because if I am gone and buried...when the Si's are ready for me to put back the rains...then that will be the end of this entire civilization, from the World Drought which will then be unstoppable. You should be quite fascinated...you are privy to something happening for the first time in history...Other-Dimensional power being used on Earth, and demonstrated by a human representative for the UFO's...utilizing physics not of this earth. And yet I struggle on...here in Cape Charles...just barely able to meet my bills and feed the family...when I in truth and in fact...have the fate of the entire world in my hands. It...is quite humorous (make that 'humorous') I should be considered somekind of national treasure by this country...protected...and given funds to carry out the many things that the Si's wish carried out. Right now...I know a definite way that I could extend my life...by ten years at least. But without funds, I cannot do so. And this fact does not please the Si's.

Todd, two other candidates, apparently eliminated themselves the last time out and Burbrink made a special trip to the Cardinal complex Sunday to watch Glass and Harris pitch against Tulsa. He saw each restrict the Oilers to one hit in three inning stints in a game the Tides won, 3-2, with two unearned runs in the ninth.

Tulsa, registering unearned runs of its own in the first and eighth, took a 2-1 lead into the final inning. The day before the Tides had scored twice in the ninth to tie at 16-16. This time a former Tidewater shortstop, Bobby Heise, erred on consecutive plays. Then Rick Puig broke an 0-for-22 slump with a hit to right that drove in the winning run.

In contrast to the cannonading 24 hours earlier, each team managed only seven hits. There were just two extra base-hits, both windblown doubles that produced the first Tidewater run in the sixth.

Burbrink, however, came to see Harris and Glass pitch. And pitch they did. Harris walked one and struck out three in the first three innings. Glass walked no one and struck out two in the middle three. Sterling worked the last three, allowing five hits but making an important single himself in the ninth.

"This didn't help me make up my mind," admitted Burbrink, who for the first time is mulling the possibility of sending 11 pitchers north with Antonelli next week.

Sixteen remain on the roster but Skip Hellen and Ken Esposito have not figured from the first and if Simpson and Todd return to double-A there will be 12 names from which to choose.

The rumor persists that a deal involving Jerry Perkins is working, which means lefthander Gary Manderbach will be the lefthander reliever. If Manderbach isn't deemed ready, Burbrink may study the list of pitchers now being made available around the minor league complexes.

Should both Harris and Glass make it, there won't be room for all four righthanders now penciled into the bullpen—Phil Hennigam, Jerry Cram, John Strohmayr and Mike Wegener. Harris and Glass find their plight dreadfully frustrating. They feel they have been denied

Dancing up a Whammy

There is something about this ABA East Division playoff series between the Squires and New York that Ted Owens, the PK Man, ought to know.

Although Owens, the physic from Cape Charles, has called a truce in his interference of sports teams, the Nets have a dancer who puts the whammy on the Squires.

And there is evidence to support a claim that the dancer, not Julius Erving or Brian Taylor, is responsible for the jam the Squires find themselves in today.

The dancer, wearing a flashy cape and huge cap, normally makes his appearance at New York home games at the beginning of the second period.

To the sound of an organ, he comes prancing down the court and does a shuffle directly across from the Squires bench.

Just as he gets the rhythm going, the dancer aims his arms like a tommy-gun and puts the whammy on the Squires. He does it frontwards, backwards and, if things are going really bad, between his legs. So, you don't believe, eh?

Well, in the first game the Squires trailed by only one point at the end of the first period. In the next quarter they were outscored by seven and went on to lose.

Game No. 2. The Squires were down by five at the end of the first quarter. Then comes the dancer and the whammy and the Squires are behind by 24 at the end of the second period.

The dancer didn't accompany the Nets to Virginia when the third game was played last Thursday in Hampton. In that game the Squires trailed by eight at the end of the first period.

Emergency Call from Nets

Without the dancer there the Squires outscored the Nets 31-26 in the second quarter and went on for the victory.

New York took no chances Sunday. The Nets sent out an emergency appeal for the dancer and there, at the end of the first quarter and without any music, he appeared.

Striking, fully clothed, down the sidelines he stopped in front of the Squires bench and did his thing. He even applied a whammy to referee Wally Rooney.

The Squires, one point behind before the dancer's appearance, were outscored, 30-15, in the second period.

Now the Squires go back to New York for the fifth game and the dancer is sure the Nets will wrap up the series. In a fox-trot maybe.

The Squires and coach Al Bianchi don't mention what the dancer is doing to them.

They talk about the zone defense the Nets play and how they have to make the outside shots to break

Nets Put Squires

NORFOLK—With no regard for the law of proper sequence, the New York Nets buried the Squires Sunday and left them for dead.

Using lethal outbursts in the second and fourth periods, the Nets crushed the Squires, 116-88, in Scope to take a 3-1 lead in their best-of-seven ABA East Division playoff series.

The playoff returns to the Nets' homecourt in Nassau Coliseum tonight for the fifth and possibly last game.

New York won both previous games on its homecourt but were shaded by one point last Thursday night in Hampton, leaving the Squires the series Sunday.

Rebel 500 Captured By Pearson

DARLINGTON, S.C. (AP)—David Pearson won a wreck-marred Rebel 500 stock car race Sunday, finishing about six seconds ahead of a gasless Bobby Allison.

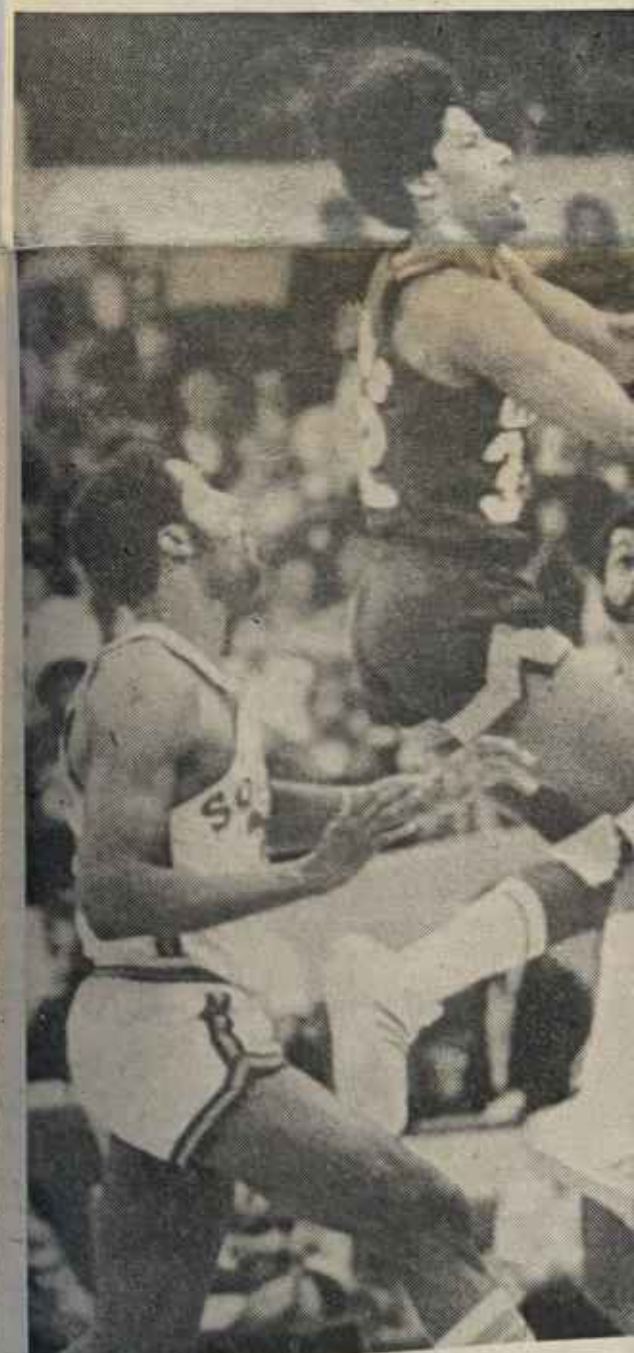

The race was flagged to a halt with 112 miles remaining after Lennie Pond, the 1973 Grand National rookie of the year, rammed his Chevrolet into the third turn guard rail.

The collision knocked down a section of the steel barrier in one of the most dangerous sections of the oval, and track crewmen needed 38 minutes to get it repaired. Pond walked away from the wreckage unhurt.

The usually high-speed race already had been slowed by seven caution flags, twice when cars smashed into each other in the first turn at ancient Darlington International Raceway. Four drivers were involved in the wrecks, but only veteran James Hylton suffered injuries.

There had been 24 lead changes among eight drivers in the hotly-contested race before the halt, but only Allison, Pearson and Buddy Baker were in the same lap at the restart.

The three swapped the lead several times before Allison wheeled by Pearson with just over 50 miles to go and headed for

Turnbill Sets State Record

NORFOLK — Though Peninsula YMCA dominated Sunday's Norfolk Navy Neptune Invitational swimming meet at Old Dominion University, 12-year old Scott Turnbill of Virginia Beach earned the most acclaim.

The Neptune's Turnbill set a state record of 28.9 seconds in the 50-yard backstroke. That time is one-tenth of a second off the national record.

Turnbill also won the 50-yard breaststroke (84.2) and 100 freestyle (56.6).

Pat Fontaine of the Barracudas was a double winner—the 100 freestyle (51.6) and 200 freestyle (2:00.7).

Other local winners were Dan Gormley of Bounty Swim Team in the 100 backstroke (1:01.3), and Neptune swimmers Susan Panzik (100 backstroke), Geoff Wentz (100 freestyle) and Barracuda Steve Helm (100 butterfly).

a chance to pitching in the majors and as Glass put it "I don't even have this staff made.

"Nellie (Burbrink) named four starters and I wasn't one of them. I feel good. My arm is strong, but what can I do?

"They're sore because I said some things to a writer in the Met camp, but I've been a nice guy and where has it gotten me?"

This spring as a Tide, Glass has given up one run in six innings. Last year, his second in Norfolk, he led the staff with 12 victories and compiled a 2.85 earned run average. And even then he had to wait for a starting job to open for him.

Harris, 8-11 with a 3.16 earned run average last year, had his usual bout of arm trouble this spring.

Despite a late start he has impressed in both his appearances.

"I haven't really cut loose yet, and I'm working on my change-up. If I can get it over I think I'll have added an important pitch, the one I need to be a winner."

John Busco and Nelson Pichardo did not make the trip to the Cardinal complex and may be moved from the Tide roster as early as today... Antonelli will go north with six infielders, with a seventh (Lute Barnes) probably to be carried on the disabled list...

... Tom Hallums, Rick Puig, Brian Oatrosser and Roy Stalger will be the infield starters with Bob Crosswell and Dave McDonald in reserve... Counting Barnes, Busco, Richardo and Terry Deremer, who also will be moved, Antonelli has 10 infielders... up the illegal defense since the referees won't.

What they don't admit is the dancer's whammy may be causing them to miss the outside shots and causing the referees not to enforce the rules of the game against the Nets.

"Our outside shots are just not falling," complained center Jim Eakins after Sunday's loss. "New York is clogging up the middle and we're not getting any thing going to the hoop."

Fatty Taylor agreed. "They (Nets) play a zone and we can't get anything inside if we don't hit from the outside to loosen things up."

PK Man the Only Chance?

George Carter, who had been fairly effective against the whammy until Sunday, nodded. "We're just not getting any calls (by the referees)," he insisted.

The Squires should know about whammies. Four years ago the team, in defiance to the PK Man, hired their own man to hex the Nets in the playoffs.

Owens, who has wrecked teams from Philadelphia to Baltimore and Los Angeles, accepted the challenge and devoted his powers to the Nets without pay. The Squires lost the series in seven games, shooting a poor 37 per cent in the final game.

The PK Man doesn't like challenges and who could blame him for being a little sore at the Nets for bringing in a new man to apply whammies on the opposition after what Owens did for them four years ago.

Perhaps Owens should have been informed before now and maybe he won't learn of what the Nets are doing to the Squires until it is too late.

But if the Squires have any hope of coming back against the Nets, somebody is going to have to stop this dancer and break the whammy.

big scorers for the Nets, who also got 21 expected points from Julius Erving.

Williamson, who previously hadn't been able to hit anything but ribs with his elbows, was averaging only 8.7 points in the series. But he got 10 the first period and finished with 21.

"Our trouble was obvious enough," said Squires coach Al Bianchi. "We just didn't put enough points on the board. We needed to get some outside shooting to loosen things up inside, but..."

The Squires, who missed all nine three-point attempts when forced to rush while desperately trying to catch up, had depended on George Irvine for outside artillery.

hit only four of 12 Sunday.

"They (Nets) came out and stripped us a couple of times," said Bianchi. "We came out banging in the first period but just couldn't maintain the pace.

"You have to give New York credit. They played well and were aggressive."

Bianchi admitted the situation for the Squires is a bit tight. But, to his credit, he didn't dust off the phrases "backs to the wall" and "now or never."

"It doesn't look good," he admitted. "But it all depends on how we approach the game. If we just take the plane ride to finish out the season, we've had it. If we...

what appeared to be certain victory.

But Pearson caught his adversary as they entered the first turn with 10 laps remaining, zipped by and was never headed as Allison suddenly slowed down on his next to final lap. His Chevrolet had run out of gas and he narrowly avoided giving up second place to the charging Baker.

Pearson, a three-time Grand National champ and a $1 million career winner, picked up $16,075 for his first triumph of the season. Allison, who has won only once this campaign, took second place money of $8,725.

Pearson's average speed was 117.543 miles per hour. His elapsed time for the 330 laps around the mile and three-eighths oval was 3 hours 50 minutes and 6 seconds not including the 38-minute stoppage.

Baker claimed third place in a Dodge, while fourth and fifth places went to Donny Allison and Cale Yarborough in Chevrolets. All had led the race at times, but Yarborough and Donny Allison trailed by at least a lap at the finish.

Pearson, who used a small-bore, 366 cubic inch engine in his Mercury, was last year's big winner with 11 wins in 17 starts, $250,000 in prize money and the nation's driver of the year title.
