Washington Dateline

Fuel Shortage Feared If Winter Is Severe

A House Small Business Subcommittee warned of possible shortages of gasoline and fuel oil if the coming winter is "severely cold."

The subcommittee released a report on recent hearings in which witnesses said present shortages already had created a "gray market" for gasoline and fuel oil which could easily evolve into a "black market" if the situation worsens.

The panel, headed by Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), said in its report:

"If the United States or any area of it experiences a severly cold winter, businessmen and consumers alike may be unable to obtain sufficient fuel to operate their businesses, heat their homes and propel their automobiles."

"Even if sufficient fuel is available," the report added, "the cost of producing it will increase and the increased cost will either have to be borne by the small businessman or passed on to the consumer."

Phila. Inq. Oct. 25, 1972

Oct. 25, 1972

TO MY SIX SCIENTISTS....

This is a big, GIANT demonstration-experiment using a combination of psi-force, and my UFO friends.

I propose to CREATE summerlike weather this winter...warm, pleasant winter...little or no snow or cold.
In this manner the fuel shortage (see clip) need not happen, and people in the U.S. will not suffer.

To do this...am going to communicate with my four huge giant UFO's...and arrange for one (or two) on the far side of the earth) to reflect the sun's rays onto THIS side of the earth, these rays to then be reflected downward onto OUR side of the earth by the one or two huge UFO's on THIS side.

Whether my understanding of the sun is correct or not...am going to use the four huge UFO's positioned around this earth...to furnish heat to the U.S. this winter! So that the U.S. can have one of the warmest winters in its history!

I will also be using various psi-force mechanisms, mentally, to bring this about.

But let one thing be understood completely.
If I go broke here at Cape Charles, and cease to function... or harassed by government agencies in any way, so that I cannot function...then I will be unable to keep the U.S. warm this winter, and the people will suffer accordingly.
I will have to work at this EVERY DAY (keeping the U.S. warm), and have an enormous amount of energy to bring it off.
Any worry or distraction drawing off my energy...will make the effort on my part useless. I will keep you fully informed on progress made.

Ted Owens (PK Man)

Owens